UNEMOTIONAL DURING TRIAL

Convicted For Poisoning Second
Husband With Arsenic—Evidence Regarding First Husband

(By United Press)

Shelbyville, Ind., June 3.—Clara Gibson Carl, alleged feminine blue-beard, was convicted of second degree murder for poisoning her husband here today.

The jury reached a verdict after deliberation throughout the night which was read before the court. It carries a penalty of life imprisonment.

The woman collapsed and was carried back to her jail cell. She had nothing to say regarding the verdict. She was in the court room when the verdict was read and she fainted. She had previously testified truly and unemotionally in her own behalf. Her collapse was said to have been serious due to an extreme nervous strain during the trial.

Conviction was obtained by the state on the basis of the evidence introduced to show that Mrs. Carl had fed arsenic to her second husband, Frank Carl, and father-in-law, Alonzo Carl, as well as her first husband, Robert Gibson.

She was charged specifically with poisoning Frank Carl, her second husband. Prosecutor Waldo Ging introduced evidence, however, to show arsenic was found in the bodies of Alonzo Carl, father of Frank Carl and Robert Gibson, her first husband.

The woman was indicted after the bodies of the two Carls had been exhumed at Hiawatha, Kansas, and chemical examination of them revealed 5.81 grains of arsenic in Frank's body and 27.75 grains in the body of the elder Carl. Later Gibson's body was exhumed at Nelsonville, Ohio, and arsenic found in it.

The judge has not passed a sentence as yet.

Mrs. Carl was formerly a resident of Rushville and is remembered by many persons here.

When she resided in Rushville, she was the wife of Robert Gibson, who was the editor of a local democratic newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson lived here only a few months during the year 1908. They left shortly after the general election in November.

Mrs. Carl is remembered by several as a woman of a very engaging personality and very attractive face.

MAX OSER IS IN HIDING

Former Swiss Livery Stable Proprietor Determined to Wed Mathilde

Zurich, June 3.—Crushed by attacks upon him as a fortune hunter and disappointed at the failure of Mathilde McCormick to sail to him on the Berengaria, as he had expected, Max Oser, former Swiss livery stable proprietor, is in hiding today.

"The whole business is worrying me and Max sick," Captain Dufor, who succeeded Oser at the riding school here, said here today. "He dare not show his head."

Oser is determined that the wedding shall go through. He has been hurt by the attitude of Mrs. Edith McCormick, Mathilde's mother, and is anxious to have the ceremony concluded at the earliest possible moment.

FRANK G. PEARCE IS DEAD

of Manley Pearce Expires

Frank G. Pearce, who is related here, is dead at his home in Newcastle at the age of 64 years. The deceased was the father of Walter M. Pearce, of North Harrison street, and a brother of Manley Pearce, of North Main street.

He had been in poor health for two years, but had been seriously ill for four weeks. He was a retired farmer and is survived by the widow and three children. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the late home in Newcastle at 2 o'clock and burial will take place in the Clear Springs cemetery.

ANNUAL SERVICES TO BE HELD HERE

Uniform Rank, K. of P. Constituting
Third Regiment, Will Hold
Review on Sunday, June 11

MEMORIAL SERVICES ALSO

Several Hundred Visitors Will Stage
Public Drill With Address by Rollin Turner at Coliseum

The annual regiment memorial and review of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of the third regiment, will be held in Rushville next Sunday, June 11, when the ranks of the orders in this part of the state that constitute the third regiment, will assemble here for their annual review.

It is expected that several hundred visitors will take part in the services which will be held at the city park. The memorial and review was held at Cambridge City last year, and it has been about six years since the meeting was held here.

Col. C. A. Phelps of Newcastle is in command of the third regiment, and visiting officers will be here to review the drills.

Rollin Turner, an attorney of Greensburg, and an eloquent orator, will deliver the memorial address in the coliseum, and Ivy Lodge 27, Knights of Pythias of this city, will join with the Uniform rank in the memorial services.

The various companies will assemble in the business district and march to the coliseum, leaving at 1:30, and the procession will be headed by a band. Upon arriving at the park, the review will be held, and the public is invited to attend.

It is expected that about an hour will be required for the march and review and at 2:30 the address will be delivered inside of the coliseum at the city park, which also will be open to the public.

The places that are to be represented here are Connersville, Newcastle, Cambridge City, Richmond, Knightstown, Hagerstown, Wilkinson and Rushville. Col. Dolph Farr of Edinburg, in command of the First regiment, will be here, together with some of the officers on his staff.

General W. B. Gray of Covington, in command of the Indiana Brigade, with his staff, will attend, and Samuel L. Trabue of this city, adjutant general, will also be one of the officers to review the companies.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued today to Mull Sampson, a farmer of this county and Myrtle M. Orme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orme, also of this county.

TIRED OF COTTON HOSE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—"I just got tired of wearing cotton stockings and didn't have the money to buy silk ones," was the excuse put forth by Saddle Miller who was arrested on a shop lifting charge. She had two pair of silk stockings, one valued at $4 and the other at $2.

PIONEER FARMING

Early Tillers of Soil Did All Their Work by Hand as
There Was Practically No Machinery in the County Until 1851. Some of the Methods Used
in Sowing and Reaping Grain.

By A. G. REEVE

The pioneer of Rush county were not supplied with any tools of any importance. There was practically no machinery in the country until 1851.

Forests were dense and only a small acreage could be put under cultivation at first. There was no room for machinery on the small plots of ground first cultivated and most of the farming was done by hand. Seed-grain was carried across the Alleghenies by early settlers and carefully conserved until it could be multiplied by reason of planting.

At first the ground was torn up with a shovel-plow with a piece of iron running from the frame to a point and in front. This caused the plow to pass over ruts. The early settlers had some wooden mould-board plows, some of which are still preserved as relics. At first crops were largely cultivated with hoes. Later single shovel plows, the double shovel, and triple shovel plows, superseded the hoes. Later came walking gang-plows, riding gang-plows, steel mould boards, and steel beam walking plows, for breaking; and finally tractor plows for both planting and cultivation. Oxen were largely used by the early settlers, then horses, and mules, and now a considerable number of tractors of all types and varieties. There was an evolution in every variety of machinery. Corn was first planted by hand and cultivated with a hoe, then later with a skip-jack and a single horse; later by a single drill, then a double drill. Such other implements as harrows, rollers and culti packers and disks are comparatively recent innovations.

When it came to harvesting the grain, it was first mowed with a reaper hook very similar to the hand grass hook of today. It was later mowed with the cradle which was much faster and the grain was mowed into swaths and afterward gathered up and bound by hand. Then came the reaping machine with a dropper; then the hand rake where the man stood on the machine to rake the grain off; and finally the first self-binder which used wire instead of twine. The thrashing machinery went through a similar evolution. Wheat was first thrashed by the pioneer with a flail which was a wooden-jointed instrument wielded by hand. Later they tramped it out with horses, or rolled it out with rollers. Then came the ground thumper. Next came the horse power and

ARLINGTON BUTCHER IS FIRST TO APPEAR

Jack Reeves, One of Those Indicted
by Grand Jury This Week,
Fined For Intoxication

OTHERS TO APPEAR TODAY

Jake Reeves, a butcher of Arlington, appeared this morning as the first victim for today in the circuit court on the eleven grand jury indictments returned this week, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, and was fined $5 and costs.

All of the indictments were served Friday afternoon, and those arrested were allowed to report in court today. One of the defendants, Nola Beekner of Arlington, came up Friday and paid his fine on two charges.

The remaining eight charges were expected to be taken care of today in the circuit court. Several minor matters were being taken up in court today, and only one new suit was placed on the docket today.

In this action Charles Merritt of Williamstown is plaintiff in a divorce suit from Bernice Merritt in which he charges his wife with a serious offense. He also seeks the custody of a minor child. The complaint alleges that they were married on March 5, 1914 and separated in March 1921 when he says that he learned that his wife was guilty of the charge.

FURTHER INQUIRY LIKELY

Clinton Liquor Traffic To Be Investigated After Trial.

Indianapolis, June 3.—Further investigation into the liquor traffic at Clinton undoubtedly will be made by federal authorities.

The investigation will follow the lines of testimony introduced during the trial of the Clinton conspiracy cases before Judge A. B. Anderson which implicated local officials at Clinton in the plot.

There will be no special grand jury summoned to investigate conditions there, however.

TO INVESTIGATE STABBING OF BOY

Special Grand Jury to be Called at Portland, Ind., Monday to Probe Fatal Affair.

QUARREL OVER BASEBALL

Portland, Ind., June 3.—A special grand jury will be called Monday to investigate the stabbing of Bernard Teeters, nine-year-old son of L. Teeters, who was fatally wounded here late yesterday by Robert Silvers, nine-year-old companion with whom he had been quarrelling regarding a baseball.

The Teeters boy was leaning against a telephone pole waiting for the "Prosperity Special" to pass on the railroad when Robert came up to him and stabbed him in the neck with a paring knife.

Prosecutor Oscar Williamson of Jay county had the boy arrested on a tentative affidavit charging murder and he asked the grand jury be called next Monday. He expressed the opinion that it was a case of involuntary manslaughter.

He is at the age of unaccountability, Williamson said, and should be taken to a boys' school until he is twenty-one years old.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS ATTEND

Several physicians from Rush county attended the Sixth District Medical society which held its annual convention in Connersville on Thursday. Addresses on medical topics were given by Dr. Smith of Newcastle; Dr. Schonwald of College Corner; Dr. J. F. Bowen of Ocedent; Dr. Craft of Indianapolis and Dr. Segar of Indianapolis. Dr. J. C. Sexton of Rushville, who was president of the society, was present and presided at the meeting.

Dr. Sexton was succeeded by Dr. M. F. Johnson of Richmond as president, and Dr. Smith of Newcastle was named as councillor. Dr. P. D. Morrow of Connersville is secretary, treasurer of the organization, and there are about 100 physicians in the Sixth district who are affiliated with the club.

CITY'S HEALTH UNUSUALLY GOOD

Only One Case of Contagion Reported During Month of May—
Typhoid Due to High Waters

OTHER MONTHLY STATISTICS

Justice Stech Has Busy Month With
Eleven Criminal and Five Civil
Cases on His Docket

The month of May passed without any unusual happenings in the city or county records, according to the statistics obtained from the various offices.

Within the city there were only six deaths during the month, and nine births were reported. The health conditions also are above the average for most cities at this time of the year, as only one case of contagion was reported, which is a case of typhoid fever, and which is believed to have been traced to the overflow of water in Hodges branch during the spring rains.

The fire department during the month answered five calls and the total loss from fire was reported as not to exceed $50 for the month.

Justice Stech had probably the busiest court during the month, when ten criminal cases were before him. Of these the fines amounted high, with three persons receiving suspended fines of $100 on fraudulent check cases.

Two young men, Charley Barnes and Ernest Stevens, were arraigned about a week ago, which fact was overlooked until today. These men pleaded guilty to charges of making a false and defamatory statement, which was alleged to have injured the reputation of Thelma Hoard, the prosecuting witness. Their fines were assessed at $25 and costs, and one was paid and the other stayed.

Justice Stech also had five civil suits filed before him during the month, the records show.

Three men paid fines in Mayor Thomas' court for intoxication during the month. In the circuit court there were 20 civil suits, of which two were for divorces. The number

FORMER SHIRLEY MAN FINED, SENT TO JAIL

Joe Hix, Jr., Convicted on Charge
of Shoplifting in Indianapolis
and Wife is Free

JUDGMENT IS WITHHELD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—Joe Hix, Jr., of Indianapolis, formerly of Shirley, Ind., was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail here late yesterday on a charge of shoplifting.

His wife Myrtle Hix, a former Newcastle girl, was held on the same charge, but judgment was withheld on her.

They told that the shoplifting career started by taking a pair of shoestrings from the Metropolitan Five to Fifty Cent store some time ago. A search of their home at 622 North Illinois street by police was said to have revealed valuable dresses—everything from a pair of cotton socks to a seal skin coat—taken from Indianapolis department stores.

The father of the young man came over from Shirley and asked the court to let them go. "If you let them go, I will take them back to my farm near Shirley," he said.

He told of the youth having been struck on the head in an accident at the Newcastle Roller Mills eight years ago and said he had been nervous ever since. He blamed the shoplifting activities upon this accident. He offered to pay the stores for all the merchandise found in the Hix home.

DEATH OR LIFE:—To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.—Romans 8: 6.

Buffaloed.

Statesmen of the old world are worrying themselves gray over what to do with Russia.

Lenine and Trotsky are firmly seated in the soviet saddle and are engaged in the pleasing pastime of pulling the string while the old world dances to their music. In the meantime the rank and file of the Russian people are dying of starvation.

Russia demands that the rest of the world supply the finances for her reconstruction. This will probably be done, because the premiers and bankers of Europe dare not definitely refuse.

The spread of bolshevism is what they fear, and the spectre is so terrifying as to practically obscure every other consideration.

In plain words, soviet Russia has the old world buffaloed to a frazzle.

Expensive Economy.

The average hard surfaced road as at present constructed in this country is not adequate to withstand the weight of the heavily loaded

trucks that continually pass over them.

The result is that within a few months a new road begins to go to pieces and constant repairs are required to keep it in any kind of condition. This, in the course of time, leads to greater expense than would have been the case had the road been properly constructed in the beginning.

The time is fast approaching when the double track road will become a necessity, with one side extremely heavy in construction for motor truck traffic, and the other of a lighter roadbed for the exclusive use of automobiles.

In the meantime we will continue to dodge holes and bump the bumps and preserve our tempers as best we can.

A moderate improvement is better than none at all, but expensive economy never pays in the long run.

AMUSEMENTS

Coming Next to Mystic

In "Fickle Women," the current offering at the Mystic theatre, next Monday and Tuesday. Local lovers of movies will find a rattling good comedy drama, filled to the brim with Yankee Pep and humor.

It is said that the hardest kind of a story or play to write is one with a humorous twist. This picture while it tells a story that is intensely human, does not overlook the fact that most human of things is a laugh. There are laughs from the very first scene until the finish.

The action takes place in a little country town like the one many of came from. Our old friends, the village gossips are on the job strong, and their tongues get the hero into deep water. He is a real American chap and without mincing words turn the tide after many a Yankee wallop and farm yard side swipe.

All our farm friends are there to add to the fun. Rover, the dog, is as usual, the faithful friend, while Bossie, the cow looks on the thrilling scene and laughs. There is also Coeko, the rooster, who didn't hesitate to take a hand in the mix-up.

Charlie Chaplin Here Today.

There is only one complaint to make about "Pay Day," the latest

Charles Chaplin picture which opened a two day run yesterday at the Princess Theatre. Its two reels should be ten.

There is only one Chaplin. Any one doubting it need only see "Pay Day." The distinctiveness of art is something that can be acquired neither by study or work. It is a matter of ability and instinct; and Chaplin is the one person who can blend the fine art of pantomime with a serious mein that makes the whole impersonation irresistibly funny.

Don't ask what "Pay Day" is all about. It hasn't a plot like "The Kid." It isn't suppose to; but it's just as funny. Even a sphinx would break into a coy giggle if it could see Charles hanging on to a long chain of sausages, nonchalantly reading his Evening Gazette under the impression that he is swinging along on a crowded street car.

It's Chaplin's picture. He wrote the story. He directed the making of it and he stars in it. Apparently it would seem that when you've said Chaplin you've said all that needs to be said about a Chaplin comedy. It's more of a truism in this case than ever because in addition to Charles, brother Sydney is in the cast, too. But the players also include Edna Purviance and Mack Swain, who are splendid foils for the star's stunts. The comedy brings the inevitable reflection that "Pay Day" comes only too infrequently.

Besides the comedy offering, the management also has added two high class vaudeville acts, which will be seen for the last times today and tonight.

USE GOLDEN RULE IN EVERY DAY LIFE

Sole Business of Rotary is to Make
Service to Community as Well
as Individual

HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Strive to Put Code of Ethics Into Effect in Own Business and to
Adopt Similar Business Codes

Los Angeles, June 3.—Putting the golden rule to work in business and professional every day life is the way Rotarians from every section of the world state the object of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, the annual convention of which brings ten thousand of the leading business men of 1200 cities and 22 countries to Los Angeles the week of June 5 to 10.

The sole business of Rotary is to make the principle of service to the community as well as to the individual the object of all Rotarians. For this purpose each Rotarian has subscribed to what is known as the Rotary Code of Ethics and is striving to put this code into effect in his own business and to bring about the adoption of similar codes in all business associations.

The Rotarian states that his Code of Ethics provides:

"First: To consider my vocation worthy, and as affording me distinct opportunity to serve society.

"Second: To improve myself, increase my efficiency, and enlarge my service, and by so doing attest my faith in the fundamental principle of Rotary that he profits most who serves best.

"Third: To realize that I am a business man and ambitious to succeed, but that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality.

"Fourth: To hold that the exchange of my goods, my service and my ideas for profit is legitimate and ethical, provided that all parties in the exchange are benefitted thereby.

"Fifth: To use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of the vocation in which I am engaged, and so to conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness, to emulate my example.

"Sixth: To conduct my business in such a manner that I may give a perfect service equal to or even better than my competitor, and when in doubt to give added service beyond the strict measure of debt or obligation.

"Seventh: To understand that one of the greatest assets of a professional or of a business man is his friends and that any advantage gained by reason of friendship is eminently ethical and proper.

"Eighth: To hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of the confidences of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary, and in violation of its Code of Ethics.

"Ninth: To consider no personal success legitimate or ethical which is secured by taking unfair advantage of certain opportunities in the social order that are absolutely denied others, nor will I take advantage of opportunities to achieve material success that others will not take because of the questionable morality involved.

"Tenth: To be not more obligated to a Brother Rotarian than I am to every other man in human society; because the genius of Rotary is not in its competition but in its co-operation; for provincialism can never have a place in an institution like Rotary, and Rotarians assert that human rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs but are as deep as the race itself; and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions.

"Eleventh: Finally, believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even unto them, we contend that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

DIAZ TO JOIN REVOLUTION

To Assume Leadership of Forces
Seeking to Overthrow Government

New Orleans, June 3.—The revolution reported under way in Mexico will be joined soon by General Felix Diaz, who will assume leadership of the forces seeking the overthrow of the Obregon government, according to an announcement, made here by Guillermo Rosas, secretary to General Diaz.

The revolution which is already backed by approximately 15,000 trained troops and twenty military leaders of different states in Mexico is fast gaining strength, the announcement stated. Leaders of the revolt seek to place Diaz at the head of the Mexican government and re-establish the constitution of 1857, the announcement said.

cylinder thrasher. These were followed by steam thrashers which have been in part superseded by tractors and gasoline power. Haying machinery went through the same evolution. A scythe was first used and then mowers of different kinds. The first hay rake was a wooden revolving rake. Next came a steel sulky rake of hand lift, which later became a self dumper. Afterwards came the side delivery rake and these have been largely displaced by the hay loaders of the present time.

The young farmer of today has no conception of the hardships and trials that his grandfathers, before the advent of machinery, had to contend with. Then practically everything was done by hand. The axe was the daily companion of the early settler and his first and best tool. Nearly all his planting, reaping, and cultivating was done by hand. Now all the plowing, preparing of the ground and cultivating and harvesting may be done by power and riding implements and with much more speed. A Rush county boy today with a tractor and a two row cultivator can cultivate more ground in a day, than a pioneer with the single shovel plow, could cultivate in a week, not to think of the work done by one person, in a day, with a hoe.

Fences instead of being built of wire as today were made wholly of rails, split with maul and wedge. In the early days rail splitting was an art and brought much reputation to Abraham Lincoln, in his youth.

If all the wealth of timber, split into rails, for fence purposes in Rush county, could be yet preserved, it would be the largest single asset of the county.

A broadaxe was used in hewing logs for building the walls of the cabins. A shiver was used to split clapboards for the roof.

The automobile has probably changed farm life more than any other invention. It has brought much joy and pleasure to farmers and their families. It has done much to relieve farm life of its tediousness and isolation for farmer's wives.

However, it is a serious question as to whether the automobile has not been a liability instead of an asset to most farmers. It is very doubtful if it has not kept many farmers from cultivating their farms as well as they should. It is also a serious question if the "joy riding" tendency of this age has not been a distinct detriment to the present generation and has taken many boys from the farm.

Anyway it is a long step in transportation from bareback riding by the pioneers along paths hewn from the primitive forest, in the early days to, bowling along, in a six cylinder automobile at forty miles per hour over a modern state highway.

The grandfathers had much to contend with yet they built their highways, homes, churches, schools and gave us other improvements and necessities that we enjoy today. The race of pioneers was a sturdy and aggressive people. The opposition and hardships they encountered in the struggle for existence made them sturdy and practical characters. It remains to be seen whether labor-saving implements and the use of power machinery will cultivate these useful traits of character in our sons and daughters as well as the hardships produced them in the pioneers.

FARMERS NEEDING GOOD SOAKING RAIN

Corn Fields Are Getting Dry and
Young Plants Which Are Just Up
Should Have Moisture

If there is anything Rush county needs right now it is a good soaking rain. Farmers have been expecting showers every day for more than a week, but with the forecast for "continued fair" they are beginning to get nervous about the situation. Corn fields are becoming dry and dusty, the farmers say, and the plants that have just broken through the ground need moisture. Late planted seed also is badly in need of moisture to stimulate germination.

Although corn fields are exceedingly dry they are not endangered in the same degree that strawberries are. A well known strawberry raiser says that the berry crop will be gone in another day or two unless showers come to save the crop. The berries are drying up on the plants without maturing. The first berries last week were of excellent flavor and of large size. Those that have been picked late this week, however, show the effect of the drouth.

In spite of the little drouth that is hurting the berry crop and "dusting up" corn fields, the wheat fields in Rush county are a marvel to behold. Wheat has made steady, satisfactory progress all spring and only an unexpected calamity, such as a county-wide hail storm or terrific wind storm, will prevent the farmers of this county from harvesting a bumper crop of wheat. Many fields will be ready to cut by July 4th and some farmers are talking about cutting the last week in June if the grain continues to mature as rapidly as it has in the last three weeks.

Obituary

William Oscar Stewart, oldest son of John K. and Sarah J. Stewart, was born in Rush Co., Indiana on Aug. 18, 1849.

He lived practically all of his life within the bounds of his native county. He was married to Miss Bernice Halstead on Aug. 13, 1873. To this union were born, five children; Mrs. Alma Stewart Miller, Mrs. Lillie Wilson, Orval Stewart, Dayton Stewart and Mrs. Grace Gardner.

His first wife preceded him in death on Oct. 26, 1908.

He was again united in marriage this time to Mrs. Ferba Risk, Oct. 4, 1916.

He is survived by his wife, five children, fourteen grandchildren, four great-grand children and one brother, Wilson Stewart of Orange and one sister, Mrs. D. Z. Williams of Glenwood, and besides these, a host of friends and acquaintances.

He was a very successful farmer and for a number of years was actively identified with the threshing business.

He was a member of the Christian church and had his church home with the Hannigan Christian church.

Until a little more than two years ago, he enjoyed good health but at that time he sustained a stroke of paralysis and although he made some improvement, he never wholly recovered and for some time past has been gradually declining in health until at 10 a. m., May 10th, at the age of seventy-two years, eight months and twenty-two days, the mooring of life were loosed and he quietly drifted out upon the sea of eternity toward that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveller returns. 70tf

Members of the Tompkins family and several friends and neighbors delightfully reminded Ned Tompkins of Milroy Friday of his seventy-first birthday anniversary, with a delicious pitch-in dinner. The dinner was served in the basement of the Christian church which is located across the street from Mr. Tompkins home in Milroy. Ninety-five guests enjoyed the day with the honored guest. The birthday dinner is an annual affair and is a reunion of the family. Thirteen members of the family have birthdays which occur in the month of June, including Herman Tompkins of this city. Among the guests from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tompkins and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tompkins and A. W. Tompkins of Indianapolis.

R. met in the court house assembly room Friday afternoon and heard the report of the department encampment at Connersville last week, which showed that Mrs. Cornelia Lyons of this city had been elected a delegate from Indiana to the national encampment which will be held in Des Moines, Iowa in September. Mrs. James Moore was elected alternate. One new member was added to the Circle.

COAL SHORTAGE TO CUT PRODUCTION SOON

Washington, June 3.—Industrial activities of the nation will be curbed within three weeks because of a coal shortage, according to government fuel experts working on the estimate of the supply and demand today.

They predicted that within twenty days some plants will be forced to discontinue operations.

The national coal bin now contains 32,000,000 tons. The stock has been reduced to that figure from 64,000,000 tons since the strike of the union miners eight weeks ago.

Production this week is estimated to have run slightly over five million tons. Consumption was more than 8,500,000 tons. The entire stock probably will not be wiped out for seven or eight weeks more, but the stock is unevenly distributed and because of this it is estimated the pinch of the strike will be felt when the reserve drops below twenty-five million tons.

Of cases filed here is below the average, as about 30 suits constitute a month's business in the circuit court.

County Clerk Loren Martin also issued 11 marriage licenses, and it is expected that June, which is commonly known as the month of brides, will break this record.

The grand jury placed 11 criminal cases on the docket on the last day of the month, which increased the docket considerably, as there already had been several cases filed earlier in the month.

Mourning Garb Out of Style

By ALICE RCHE
(Written for the United Press)

(By United Press)
New York, N. Y., June 3.—At the funeral of the late Mr. H. P. Davison, noted New York banker, there was no mourning worn either by friends or by his closest relatives. This was in conformance with Mr. Davison's request.

How often these outward signs of mourning—the heavy black veils and crepe arm bands—are dispensed with of late!

The old custom which established the period of deep mourning to two years time, with dull greys for two years thereafter, simply sentenced one to grief that was not to be forgotten for a moment. Strangers gazed at one with an absorbed and curious pity.

The wearing of deep mourning to most people is depressing. It cannot pay any real homage to the dead and it certainly does not assist those wearing it to overcome their grief.

On the other hand the sentiment of mourning apparel is growing to be a thing of the past. Too many fashionable women find it a means of attracting attention and admiration and are utilizing the widow's weeds merely as a come-on for future conquests. Mourning without sincere depth of feeling lacks the dignity of grief. It is like a badge of crepe hanging on a dance hall door. There are many women in society, notoriously misnamed in their married lives, who have been relieved of divorce court scandals by the death of their mates. How quickly these ladies fly to widow's weeds! We may see them a few months later garbed in the most fastidious of black gowns that are made to accentuate all of their charms and in black hose of the sheerest transparency—gliding over a ball-room floor upon the arm of some other man. When grief takes this turn, the wearing of mourning is rank hypocrisy. Too often the black-bordered handkerchief hides crocodile tears.

The other women—the real women who find solace in the wearing of black after bereavement, should never allow themselves to be persuaded by ancient customs into wearing it one day longer than they feel the need of it.

Recently I talked with a woman over fifty years old who told me that she was wearing colors for the first time in twenty years. During all that time she had been in mourning for some member of her family. "It is awful," she said. "I would never go through it again, but what will people say if one doesn't?"

To my mind a person can be just as sincere in grief and as respectful to the dead in a modest hat of some dark shade as under a "mouche" effect of layers and layers of crinkly crepe.

Fashion Hints.

A lovely summer costume displayed in a Fifth Avenue shop is developed of white silk crepe romaine. It is made in long straight lined effect, with black embroidery about four inches wide extending from the left shoulder to the hem of the skirt. The sleeves are long and bell shaped and the girdle is a narrow strip of material which fastens in front, with a pearl pendant clasp. White crepe de chene hat and a white fox fur completes the summery effect. There is a white enameled cane that adds to the jauntiness of these white costumes.

When making up the lingerie for summer, why not try that new shade of green known as verte d'eau or water green? It is the softest, most summery shade imaginable and many of the high priced imports are made of it. It combines beautifully with white. Nothing quiet suggests the summer spirit as does this pale green.

The "say it with flowers" slogan has taken the fashion world by storm and nearly all the afternoon and evening frocks are trimmed in hand-made flowers of self tones. Often the petals are made of shaded colors in shot taffeta.

The flapper scarfs are now being shown in colored rubber materials for the bathing costumes. They are usually made of red or green rubber and are fringed at the ends with white rubber.

The woman who goes away for the summer months will find that the crinkled crepe underwear is ideal for that purpose. They launder easily and require no ironing. They can be purchased in nearly all the pastel colors.

Saccharine Ring

The ancient poison ring which carried a little poison pellet has again come into its own. Now, however, it carries a pellet to kill—fat. In other words, it conceals the saccharine tablet which is supposed to deal a death blow to fat.

Most every woman is dieting these days and since sugar is taboo to them, saccharine is their only alternative. How simple it is when having afternoon tea to unscrew the top of a lovely silver ring and remove a saccharine pill.

If there must be dieting let us diet artistically!

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me." —Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

Life Imprisonment

COLLAPSES AFTER REPORT

Woman is Carried Back to Her Jail
Cell and is Said to be in a Serious Condition

UNEMOTIONAL DURING TRIAL

Convicted For Poisoning Second
Husband With Arsenic—Evi-
dence Regarding First Husband

(By United Press)
Shelbyville, Ind., June 3.—Clara
Gibson Carl, alleged feminine blue-board, was convicted of second degree murder for poisoning her husband here today.

The jury reached a verdict after deliberation throughout the night
which was read before the court. It carries a penalty of life imprisonment.

The woman collapsed and was carried back to her jail cell. She had nothing to say regarding the verdict. She was in the court room when the verdict was read and she fainted. She had previously testified truly and unemotionally in her own behalf. Her collapse was said to have been serious due to an extreme nervous strain during the trial.

Conviction was obtained by the state on the basis of the evidence introduced to show that Mrs. Carl had fed arsenic to her second husband, Frank Carl, and father-in-law, Alonzo Carl, as well as her first husband, Robert Gibson.

She was charged specifically with poisoning Frank Carl, her second husband. Prosecutor Waldo Gung introduced evidence, however, to show arsenic was found in the bodies of Alonzo Carl, father of Frank Carl and Robert Gibson, her first husband.

The woman was indicted after the bodies of the two Carls had been exhumed at Hiawatha, Kansas, and chemical examination of them revealed 5.81 grains of arsenic in Frank's body and 27.75 grains in the body of the elder Carl. Later Gibson's body was exhumed at Nelsonville, Ohio, and arsenic found in it.

The judge has not passed a sentence as yet.

Mrs. Carl was formerly a resident of Rushville and is remembered by many persons here.

When she resided in Rushville, she was the wife of Robert Gibson, who was the editor of a local democratic newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson lived here
only a few months during the year 1908. They left shortly after the general election in November.

Mrs. Carl is remembered by several as a woman of a very engaging personality and very attractive face.

MAX OSER IS IN HIDING

Former Swiss Livery Stable Proprietor Determined to Wed Mathilde

Zurich, June 3.—Crushed by attacks upon him as a fortune hunter
and disappointed at the failure of Mathilde McCormick to sail to him
on the Berengaria, as he had expected, Max Oser, former Swiss livery stable proprietor, is in hiding
today.

"The whole business is worrying
me and Max sick," Captain Dufour,
who succeeded Oser at the riding
school here, said here today. "He dare not show his head."

Oser is determined that the wedding shall go through. He has been hurt by the attitude of Mrs. Edith McCormick, Mathilde's mother, and is anxious to have the ceremony
concluded at the earliest possible moment.

RUSHVILLE GIRL VICTOR IN STATE

Judith Mauzy Turns in Only Perfect
Paper in Indiana Music Memory
Contest at Greenwood

NINE OTHER CONTESTANTS

Rushville Girl, With Many Handicaps, Outstrips Older Pupils Who Had More Time for Preparation

Rushville won a great victory
when Miss Judith Mauzy, age eleven years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Hugh E. Mauzy, 1115 North Perkins street, was awarded first place in the state music memory contest which was held Friday in connection with the annual meeting of the Indiana
Music Teachers' association in Greenwood, Ind.

Miss Mauzy was not only the youngest of ten contestants, but she was the only one of the ten who submitted a perfect paper.

With one other exception, the Rushville girl was the only pupil in the contest who was not a high school pupil.

A Shortridge (Indianapolis) high school boy of seventeen years old,
was second and the Martinsville and Danville entrants tied for third place. The Shortridge boy had been studying since January 1 on a list of fifty compositions from which the ones used in the contest were selected.

Miss Mauzy received a check for $15 as the first prize in the contest.
It was given by the Indiana Federation of Music Clubs.

This is the first state music memory contest ever held in the United States. Miss Sarah I. McConnell,
superintendent of music in the Rushville
schools, who arranged a county contest here during the last school contest, was one of the judges in the state contest.

The state contest was a very trying affair, according to Miss McConnell, because of the way it was conducted. The contestants were on the stage facing a large audience in the auditorium. No record was played through on the phonograph, only strains selected from each number being reproduced. This made the contest a very difficult one.

The Rushville contestant was handicapped by the fact that it was not known here until ten days ago that there would be a state contest and she had not been preparing for one.
In addition to the numbers used in the county contest here, twenty-nine others were in the state contest and it became necessary for Miss Mauzy
to memorize all of them in the last ten days.

Miss Mauzy was in the fifth grade
at the Graham Annex during the last school year and was taught by Miss Margaret Fleckhart. She was promoted to 6B at the end of the year.

The majority of the schools which were represented in the contest have had music appreciation for several years, but last year was the first time the course was ever given in Rushville.

The following numbers were used
in the contest:

Air for G String—Bach.
Andante from Fifth Symphony—
Beethoven.
Anvil Chorus (Il Trovatore)—Verdi.
Amaryllis—Old French.
Berceuse (Jocelyn)—Godard.
Dance Macabre—Saint Saens.
Elegie—Massenet.
From an Indian Lodge—MacDowell.
Funeral March—Chopin.
Grand March (Aida)—Verdi.
Hallelujah Chorus (Messiah)— Handel.
Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2—Liszt.
Hungarian Dance No. 5—Brahms.

years since the meeting was held here.

Col. C. A. Phelps of Newcastle is in command of the third regiment,
and visiting officers will be here to review the drills.

Rollin Turner, an attorney of Greensburg, and an eloquent orator,
will deliver the memorial address in the coliseum, and Ivy Lodge 27, Knights of Pythias of this city, will join with the Uniform rank in the memorial services.

The various companies will assemble in the business district and march to the coliseum, leaving at 1:30, and the procession will be headed by a band. Upon arriving at the park, the review will be held,
and the public is invited to attend.

It is expected that about an hour will be required for the march
and review and at 2:30 the address
will be delivered inside of the coliseum at the city park, which also will be open to the public.

The places that are to be represented here are Connersville, Newcastle, Cambridge City, Richmond, Knightstown, Hagerstown, Wilkinson and Rushville. Col. Dolph Farr of Edinburg, in command of the first regiment, will be here, together with some of the officers on his staff.

General W. B. Gray of Covington,
in command of the Indiana Brigade,
with his staff, will attend, and Samuel L. Trabue of this city, adjutant general, will also be one of the officers to review the companies.

day to Moll Sampson, a farmer of this county, and Myrtle M. Orme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orme,
also of this county.

TIRED OF COTTON HOSE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—"I just got tired of wearing cotton stockings and didn't have the money to buy silk ones," was the excuse put forth by Saddle Miller who was arrested on a shop lifting charge. She had two pairs of silk stockings, one valued at $4 and the other at $2.

PIONEER FARMING

Early Tillers of Soil Did All Their Work by Hand as
There Was Practically No Machinery in the County Until 1851. Some of the Methods Used
in Sowing and Reaping Grain.

By A. G. REEVE

The pioneer of Rush county were not supplied with any tools of any importance. There was practically no machinery in the country until 1851.

Forests were dense and only a small acreage could be put under cultivation at first. There was no room for machinery on the small plots of ground first cultivated and most of the farming was done by hand. Seed-grain was carried across the Alleghenies by early settlers and carefully conserved until it could be multiplied by reason of planting.

At first the ground was torn up with a shovel-plow with a piece of iron running from the frame to a point and in front. This caused the plow to pass over ruts. The early settlers had some wooden mould-board plows, some of which are still preserved as relics. At first crops were largely cultivated with hoes. Later single shovel plows, the double shovel, and triple shovel plows, superseded the hoes. Later came walking gang-plows, riding
gang-plows, steel mould boards,
and steel beam walking plows, for breaking; and finally tractor plows
for both planting and cultivation.
Oxen were largely used by the early settlers, then horses, and mules,

and now a considerable number of tractors of all types and varieties.
There was an evolution in every variety of machinery. Corn was first planted by hand and cultivated
with a hoe, then later with a skip-jack and a single horse; later by a single drill, then a double drill.
Such other implements as harrows,
rollers and culti packers and disks
are comparatively recent innovations.

When it came to harvesting the grain, it was first mowed with a reaper hook very similar to the hand grass hook of today. It was later mowed with the cradle which was much faster and the grain was mowed into swaths and afterward gathered up and bound by hand. Then came the reaping machine with a dropper; then the hand rake where the man stood on the machine to rake the grain off;
and finally the first self-binder
which used wire instead of twine.
The thrashing machinery went through a similar evolution. Wheat was first thrashed by the pioneer
with a flail which was a woodenjointed instrument wielded by hand.
Later they tramped it out with horses, or rolled it out with rollers. Then came the ground thumper. Next came the horse power and

ARLINGTON BUTCHER IS FIRST TO APPEAR

Jack Reeves, One of Those Indicted
by Grand Jury This Week,
Fined For Intoxication

OTHERS TO APPEAR TODAY

Jake Reeves, a butcher of Arlington, appeared this morning as the first victim for today in the circuit court on the eleven grand jury indictments returned this week, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, and was fined $5 and costs.

All of the indictments were served Friday afternoon, and those arrested were allowed to report in court today. One of the defendants, Nola Beckner of Arlington, came in Friday and paid his fine on two charges.

The remaining eight charges were expected to be taken care of today
in the circuit court. Several minor matters were being taken up in court today, and only one new suit was placed on the docket today.

In this action Charles Merritt of Williamstown is plaintiff in a divorce suit from Bernice Merritt in which he charges his wife with a serious offence. He also seeks the custody of a minor child. The complaint alleges that they were married on March 5, 1914 and separated in March 1921 when he says that he learned that his wife was guilty of the charge.

FURTHER INQUIRY LIKELY

Clinton Liquor Traffic To Be Investigated After Trial.

Indianapolis, June 3.—Further investigation into the liquor traffic
at Clinton undoubtedly will be made by federal authorities.

The investigation will follow the lines of testimony introduced during the trial of the Clinton conspiracy cases before Judge A. B. Anderson which implicated local officials
at Clinton in the plot.

There will be no special grand jury summoned to investigate conditions there, however.

TO INVESTIGATE STABBING OF BOY

Special Grand Jury to be Called at Portland, Ind., Monday to Probe Fatal Affair.

QUARREL OVER BASEBALL

Portland, Ind., June 3.—A special
grand jury will be called Monday to investigate the stabbing of Bernard Teeters, nine-year-old son of L. Teeters, who was fatally wounded here
late yesterday by Robert Silvers, nine-year-old companion which whom he had been quarrelling regarding a baseball.

The Teeters boy was leaning against a telephone pole waiting for the "Prosperity Special" to pass on the railroad when Robert came up to him and stabbed him in the neck
with a paring knife.

Prosecutor Oscar Williamson of Jay county had the boy arrested on a tentative affidavit charging murder
and he asked the grand jury be called next Monday. He expressed the opinion that it was a case of involuntary manslaughter.

He is at the age of unaccountability, Williamson said, and should be taken to a boys' school until he is twenty-one years old.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS ATTEND

Several physicians from Rush
county attended the Sixth District Medical society which held its annual convention in Connersville on Thursday. Addresses on medical topics were given by Dr. Smith of Newcastle; Dr. Schonwald of College Corner; Dr. J. F. Bowen of Occident; Dr. Craft of Indianapolis
and Dr. Segar of Indianapolis. Dr.
J. C. Sexton of Rushville, who was president of the society, was present
and presided at the meeting.

Dr. Sexton was succeeded by Dr.
M. F. Johnson of Richmond as president; and Dr. Smith of Newcastle was named as councillor. Dr. R. D.
Morrow of Connersville is secretary-treasurer of the organization, and there are about 100 physicians in the Sixth district who are affiliated with the club.

CITY'S HEALTH UNUSUALLY GOOD

Only One Case of Contagion Reported During Month of May—
Typhoid Due to High Waters

OTHER MONTHLY STATISTICS

Justice Stech, Has Busy Month With
Eleven Criminal and Five Civil
Cases on His Docket

The month of May passed without any unusual happenings in the city or county records, according to the statistics obtained from the various offices.

Within the city there were only six deaths during the month, and nine births were reported. The health conditions also are above the average for most cities at this time of the year, as only one case of contagion
was reported, which is a case of typhoid fever, and which is believed to have been traced to the overflow
of water in Hodges branch during the spring rains.

The fire department during the month answered five calls and the total loss from fire was reported as not to exceed $50 for the month.

Justice Stech had probably the busiest court during the month, when
ten criminal cases were before him.
Of these the fines amounted high,
with three persons receiving suspended fines of $100 on fraudulent
check cases.

Two young men, Charley Barnes
and Ernest Stevens, were arraigned about a week ago, which fact was overlooked until today. These men pleaded guilty to charges of making
a false and defamatory statement,
which was alleged to have injured
the reputation of Thelma Hoard, the prosecuting witness. Their fines were assessed at $25 and costs, and one was paid and the other stayed.

Justice Stech also had five civil suits filed before him during the month, the records show.

Three men paid fines in Mayor
Thomas' court for intoxication during the month. In the circuit court there were 20 civil suits, of which two were for divorces. The number

FORMER SHIRLEY MAN FINED, SENT TO JAIL

Joe Hix, Jr., Convicted on Charge
of Shoplifting in Indianapolis
and Wife is Free

JUDGMENT IS WITHHELD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—Joe Hix, Jr., of Indianapolis, formerly of Shirley, Ind., was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail here late yesterday on a charge of shoplifting.

His wife Myrtle Hix, a former Newcastle girl, was held on the same charge, but judgment was withheld on her.

They told that the shoplifting career started by taking a pair of shoestrings from the Metropolitan Five to Fifty Cent store some time ago. A search of their home at 622 North Illinois street by police was said to have revealed valuable dresses—everything from a pair of cotton socks to a seal skin coat—taken from Indianapolis department stores.

The father of the young man
came over from Shirley and asked the court to let them go. "If you let them go, I will take them back to my farm near Shirley," he said.

He told of the youth having been struck on the head in an accident
at the Newcastle Roller Mills eight years ago and said he had been nervous ever since. He blamed the shoplifting activities upon this accident. He offered to pay the stores
for all the merchandise found in the Hix home.

DEATH OR LIFE.—To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.—Romans 8: 6.

Buffaloed.

Statesmen of the old world are worrying themselves gray over what to do with Russia.

Lenine and Trotsky are firmly seated in the soviet saddle and are engaged in the pleasing pastime of pulling the string while the old world dances to their music. In the meantime the rank and file of the Russian people are dying of starvation.

Russia demands that the rest of the world supply the finances for her reconstruction. This will probably be done, because the premiers and bankers of Europe dare not definitely refuse.

The spread of bolshevism is what they fear, and the spectre is so terrifying as to practically obscure every other consideration.

In plain words, soviet Russia has the old world buffaloed to a frazzle.

Expensive Economy.

The average hard surfaced road as at present constructed in this country is not adequate to withstand the weight of the heavily loaded

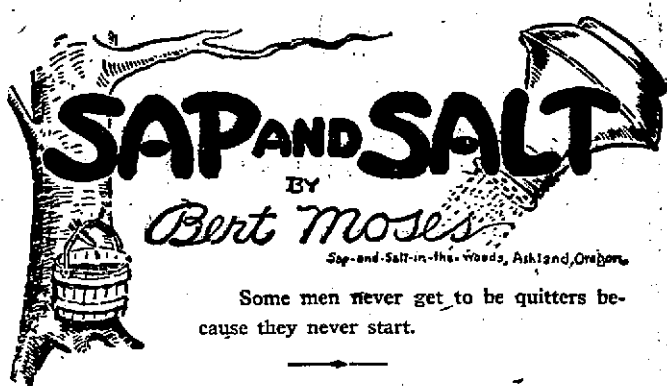

trucks that continually pass over them.

The result is that within a few months a new road begins to go to pieces and constant repairs are required to keep it in any kind of condition. This, in the course of time, leads to greater expense than would have been the case had the road been properly constructed in the beginning.

The time is fast approaching when the double track road will become a necessity, with one side extremely heavy in construction for motor truck traffic, and the other of a lighter roadbed for the exclusive use of automobiles.

In the meantime we will continue to dodge holes and jump the bumps, and preserve our tempers as best we can.

A moderate improvement is better than none at all, but expensive economy never pays in the long run.

Some men never get to be quitters because they never start.

Fame lies ahead of you and not behind.

Repenting after you are found out doesn't do you much credit.

One way to stop divorce would be to make it easy and marriage difficult.

Things in China would improve if the world would only let the Chinese have a little to say about their own affairs.

Few women can resist the temptation of buying things and having them charged.

Times Surely Have Changed

And we distinctly recall that 50 years ago the girls were admired, respected and loved, though fully dressed.

Out of His Element

After reading Thomas A. Edison's theories on currency the public is pretty well convinced he should stick to electricity.

May Die, But He'll Never Resign

Lenine's ill-health never becomes sufficiently serious to make him entertain a thought of relinquishing his arduous political duties.

Kick Gets There Just the Same

In New Jersey it has been decreed that dandelion wine is not a fruit juice, but under any other name it will prove as potent a potation.

AMUSEMENTS

Coming Next to Mystic

In "Tickle Women," the current offering at the Mystic theatre, next Monday and Tuesday. Local lovers of movies will find a rattling good comedy drama, filled to the brim with Yankee Pep and humor.

It is said that the hardest kind of a story or play to write is one with a humorous twist. This picture while it tells a story that is intensely human, does not overlook the fact that most human of things is a laugh. There are laughs from the very first scene until the finish.

The action takes place in a little country town like the one many of came from. Our old friends, the village gossips are on the job strong, and their tongues get the hero into deep water. He is a real American chap and without mincing words turn the tide after many a Yankee wallop and farm yard side swipe.

All our farm friends are there to add to the fun. Royer, the dog, is as usual, the faithful friend, while Bossie, the cow looks on the thrilling scene, and laughs. There is also Cocko, the rooster, who didn't hesitate to take a hand in the mix-up.

Charlie Chaplin Here Today.

There is only one complaint to make about "Pay Day," the latest

Charles Chaplin picture which opened a two day run yesterday at the Princess Theatre. Its two reels should be ten.

There is only one Chaplin. Any one doubting it need only see "Pay Day." The distinctiveness of art is something that can be acquired neither by study or work. It is a matter of ability and instinct; and Chaplin is the one person who can blend the fine art of pantomime with a serious mean that makes the whole impersonation irresistibly funny.

Don't ask what "Pay Day" is all about. It hasn't a plot like "The Kid." It isn't suppose to; but it's just as funny. Even a sphinx would break into a coy giggle if it could see Charles hanging on to a long chain of sausages, nonchalantly reading his Evening Gazette under the impression that he is swinging along on a crowded street car.

It's Chaplin's picture. He wrote the story. He directed the making of it and he stars in it. Apparently it would seem that when you've said Chaplin you've said all that needs to be said about a Chaplin comedy. It's more of a truism in this case than ever because in addition to Charles, brother Sydney is in the cast, too. But the players also include Edna Purviance and Mack Swain, who are splendid foils for the star's stunts. The comedy brings the inevitable reflection that "Pay Day" comes only too infrequently.

Besides the comedy offering, the management also has added two high class vaudeville acts, which will be seen for the last times today and tonight.

USE GOLDEN RULE IN EVERY DAY LIFE

Sole Business of Rotary is to Make
Service to Community as Well
as Individual

HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Strive to Put Code of Ethics into Effect in Own Business and to
Adopt Similar Business Codes

Los Angeles, June 3.—Putting the golden rule to work in business and professional every day life is the way Rotarians from every section of the world state the object of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, the annual convention of which brings ten thousand of the leading business men of 1200 cities and 22 countries to Los Angeles the week of June 5 to 10.

The sole business of Rotary is to make the principle of service to the community as well as to the individual the object of all Rotarians. For this purpose each Rotarian has subscribed to what is known as the Rotary Code of Ethics and is striving to put this code into effect in his own business and to bring about the adoption of similar codes in all business associations.

The Rotarian states that his Code of Ethics provides:

"First: To consider my vocation worthy, and as affording me distinct opportunity to serve society.

"Second: To improve myself, increase my efficiency and enlarge my service, and by so doing attest my faith in the fundamental principle of Rotary that he profits most who serves best.

"Third: To realize that I am a business man and ambitious to succeed, but that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality.

"Fourth: To hold that the exchange of my goods, my service and my ideas for profit is legitimate and ethical, provided that all parties in the exchange are benefitted thereby.

"Fifth: To use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of the vocation in which I am engaged, and so to conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate my example.

"Sixth: To conduct my business in such a manner that I may give a perfect service equal to or even better than my competitor, and when in doubt to give added service beyond the strict measure of debt or obligation.

"Seventh: To understand that one of the greatest assets of a professional or of a business man is his friends and that any advantage gained by reason of friendship is eminently ethical and proper.

"Eighth: To hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of the confidences of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary, and in violation of its Code of Ethics.

"Ninth: To consider no personal success legitimate or ethical which is secured by taking unfair advantage of certain opportunities in the social order that are absolutely denied others, nor will I take advantage of opportunities to achieve material success that others will not take because of the questionable morality involved.

"Tenth: To be not more obligated to a Brother Rotarian than I am to every other man in human society; because the genius of Rotary is not in its competition but in its co-operation; for provincialism can never have a place in an institution like Rotary, and Rotarians assert that human rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs but are as deep as the race itself; and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions.

"Eleventh: Finally, believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even unto them, we contend that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

DIAZ TO JOIN REVOLUTION

To Assume Leadership of Forces
Seeking to Overthrow Government

New Orleans, June 3.—The revolution reported under way in Mexico will be joined soon by General Felix Diaz, who will assume leadership of the forces seeking the overthrow of the Obregon government, according to an announcement, made here by Guillermo Rosas, secretary to General Diaz.

The revolution which is already backed by approximately 15,000 trained troops and twenty military leaders of different states in Mexico is fast gaining strength, the announcement stated. Leaders of the revolt seek to place Diaz at the head of the Mexican government and re-establish the constitution of 1857, the announcement said.

cylinder thrasher. These were followed by steam thrashers which have been in part superseded by tractors and gasoline power. Haying machinery went through the same evolution. A scythe was first used and then mowers of different kinds. The first hay rake was a wooden revolving rake. Next came a steel sulky rake of hand lift, which later became a self dumper. Afterwards came the side delivery rake and these have been largely displaced by the hay loaders of the present time.

The young farmer of today has no conception of the hardships and trials that his grandfathers, before the advent of machinery, had to contend with. Then practically everything was done by hand. The axe was the daily companion of the early settler and his first and best tool. Nearly all his planting, reaping, and cultivating was done by hand. Now all the plowing, preparing of the ground and cultivating and harvesting may be done by power and riding implements and with much more speed. A Rush county boy today with a tractor and a two row cultivator can cultivate more ground in a day, than a pioneer with the single shovel plow, could cultivate in a week, not to think of the work done by one person, in a day, with a hoe.

Fences instead of being built of wire as today were made wholly of rails, split with maul and wedge. In the early days rail splitting was an art and brought much reputation to Abraham Lincoln, in his youth.

If all the wealth of timber, split into rails, for fence purposes in Rush county, could be yet preserved, it would be the largest single asset of the county.

A broadaxe was used in hewing logs for building the walls of the cabins. A shiver was used to split clapboards for the roof.

The automobile has probably changed farm life more than any other invention. It has brought much joy and pleasure to farmers and their families. It has done much to relieve farm life of its tediousness and isolation for farmer's wives.

However, it is a serious question as to whether the automobile has not been a liability instead of an asset to most farmers. It is very doubtful if it has not kept many farmers from cultivating their farms as well as they should. It is also a serious question if the "joy riding" tendency of this age has not been a distinct detriment to the present generation and has taken many boys from the farm.

Anyway it is a long step in transportation from bareback riding by the pioneers along paths hewn from the primitive forest, in the early days to, bowling along, in a six cylinder automobile at forty miles per hour over a modern state highway.

The grandfathers had much to contend with yet they built their highways, homes, churches, schools and gave us other improvements and necessities that we enjoy today. The race of pioneers were a sturdy and aggressive people. The opposition and hardships they encountered in the struggle for existence made them sturdy and practical characters. It remains to be seen whether labor-saving implements and the use of power machinery will cultivate these useful traits of character in our sons and daughters as well as the hardships produced them in the pioneers.

FARMERS NEEDING GOOD SOAKING RAIN

Corn Fields Are Getting Dry and
Young Plants Which Are Just Up
Should Have Moisture

If there is anything Rush county needs right now it is a good soaking rain. Farmers have been expecting showers every day for more than a week, but with the forecast for "continued fair" they are beginning to get nervous about the situation. Corn fields are becoming dry and dusty, the farmers say, and the plants that have just broken through the ground need moisture. Late planted seed also is badly in need of moisture to stimulate germination.

Although corn fields are exceedingly dry they are not endangered in the same degree that strawberries are. A well known strawberry raiser says that the berry crop will be gone in another day or two unless showers come to save the crop. The berries are drying up on the plants without maturing. The first berries last week were of excellent flavor and of large size. Those that have been picked late this week, however, show the effect of the drought.

In spite of the little drought that is hurting the berry crop and "dusting up" corn fields, the wheat fields in Rush county are a marvel to behold. Wheat has made steady, satisfactory progress all spring and only an unexpected calamity, such as a county-wide hail storm or terrific wind storm, will prevent the farmers of this county from harvesting a bumper crop of wheat. Many fields will be ready to cut by July 4th and some farmers are talking about cutting the last week in June if the grain continues to mature as rapidly as it has in the last three weeks.

Obituary

William Oscar Stewart, oldest son of John K. and Sarah J. Stewart, was born in Rush Co., Indiana on Aug. 18, 1849.

He lived practically all of his life within the bounds of his native county. He was married to Miss Bernice Halstead on Aug. 13, 1873. To this union were born five children: Mrs. Alma Stewart Miller, Mrs. Lillie Wilson, Orval Stewart, Dayton Stewart and Mrs. Grace Gardner.

His first wife preceded him in death on Oct. 26, 1908. He was again united in marriage this time to Mrs. Ferba Risk, Oct. 4, 1916.

He is survived by his wife, five children, fourteen grandchildren, four great-grand children and one brother, Wilson Stewart of Orange and one sister, Mrs. D. Z. Williams of Glenwood, and besides these, a host of friends and acquaintances.

He was a very successful farmer and for a number of years was actively identified with the threshing business.

He was a member of the Christian church and had his church home with the Hannigan Christian church.

Until a little more than two years ago, he enjoyed good health but at that time he sustained a stroke of paralysis and although he made some improvement, he never wholly recovered and for some time past has been gradually declining in health until at 10 a. m. May 10th, at the age of seventy-two years, eight months and twenty-two days, the mooring of life were loosed and he quietly drifted out upon the sea of eternity toward that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveller returns.

COAL SHORTAGE TO CUT PRODUCTION SOON

Washington, June 3.—Industrial activities of the nation will be curbed within three weeks because of a coal shortage, according to government fuel experts working on the estimate of the supply and demand today.

They predicted that within twenty days some plants will be forced to discontinue operations. The national coal bin now contains 32,000,000 tons. The stock has been reduced to that figure from 64,000,000 tons since the strike of the union miners eight weeks ago.

Production this week is estimated to have run slightly over five million tons. Consumption was more than 8,500,000 tons. The entire stock probably will not be wiped out for seven or eight weeks more, but the stock is unevenly distributed and because of this it is estimated the pinch of the strike will be felt when the reserve drops below twenty-five million tons.

Of cases filed here is below the average, as about 30 suits constitute a month's business in the circuit court. County Clerk Loren Martin also issued 11 marriage licenses, and it is expected that June, which is commonly known as the month of brides, will break this record.

The grand jury placed 11 criminal cases on the docket on the last day of the month, which increased the docket considerably, as there already had been several cases filed earlier in the month.

Mourning Garb Out of Style

By ALICE ROCHE
(Written for the United Press)

(By United Press)
New York, N. Y., June 3.—At the funeral of the late Mr. H. P. Davison, noted New York banker, there was no mourning worn either by friends or by his closest relatives. This was in conformance with Mr. Davison's request.

How often these outward signs of mourning—the heavy black veils and crepe arm bands—are dispensed with of late!

The old custom which established the period of deep mourning to two years time, with dull greys for two years there after, simply sentenced one to grief that was not to be forgotten for a moment. Strangers gazed at one with an absorbed and curious pity.

The wearing of deep mourning to most people is depressing. It cannot pay any real homage to the dead and it certainly does not assist those wearing it to overcome their grief.

On the other hand the sentiment of mourning apparel is growing to be a thing of the past. Too many fashionable women find it a means of attracting attention and admiration and are utilizing the widow's weeds merely as a come-on for future conquests. Mourning without sincere depth of feeling lacks the dignity of grief. It is like a badge of crepe hanging on a dance hall floor. There are many women in society, notoriously misnamed in their married lives, who have been relieved of divorce court scandals by the death of their mates. How quickly these ladies fly to widow's weeds! We may see them a few months later garbed in the most fastidious of black gowns that are made to accentuate all of their charms and in black hose of the sheerest transparency—gliding over a ball-room floor upon the arm of some other man. When grief takes this turn, the wearing of mourning is rank hypocrisy. Too often the black-bordered handkerchief hides crocodile tears.

The other women—the real women who find solace in the wearing of black after bereavement, should never allow themselves to be persuaded by ancient customs into wearing it one day longer than they feel the need of it. Recently I talked with a woman over fifty years old who told me that she was wearing colors for the first time in twenty years. During all that time she had been in mourning for some member of her family. "It is awful," she said. "I would never go through it again, but what will people say if one doesn't?" To my mind a person can be just as sincere in grief and as respectful to the dead in a modest hat of some dark shade as under a "mooen tar" effect of layers and layers of crinkly crepe.

Fashion Hints.
A lovely summer costume displayed in a Fifth Avenue shop is developed of white silk crepe romaine. It is made in long straight lined effect, with black embroidery about four inches wide extending from the left shoulder to the hem of the skirt. The sleeves are long and bell shaped and the girdle is a narrow strip of material which fastens

in front, with a pearl pendant clasp. White crepe de chene hat and a white fox fur completes the summery effect. There is a white enameled cane that adds to the jauntiness of these white costumes.

When making up the lingerie for summer, why not try that new shade of green known as verte d'eau or water green? It is the softest, most summery shade imaginable and many of the high priced imports are made of it. It combines beautifully with white. Nothing quiet suggests the summer spirit as does this pale green.

The "say it with flowers" slogan has taken the fashion world by storm and nearly all the afternoon and evening frocks are trimmed in hand-made flowers of soft tones. Often the petals are made of shaded colors in shot taffeta.

The flapper scarfs are now being shown in colored rubber materials for the bathing costumes. They are usually made of red or green rubber and are fringed at the ends with white rubber.

The woman who goes away for the summer months will find that the crinkled crepe underwear is ideal for that purpose. They launder easily and require no ironing. They can be purchased in nearly all the pastel colors.

Saccharine Ring
The ancient poison ring which carried a little poison pellet has again come into its own. Now, however, it carries a pellet to kill—fat. In other words, it conceals the saccharine tablet which is supposed to deal a death blow to fat.

Most every woman is dieting these days and since sugar is taboo to them, saccharine is their only alternative. How simple it is when having afternoon tea to unscrew the top of a lovely silver ring and remove a saccharine pill.

If there must be dieting let us diet artistically!

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me." —Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.
